Antrim.

Died on Nov. 23, at her residence, Gortgole, Portlone, Catherine Lewis, aged 72 years.

Armagh.

Deep regret was felt in Lurgan on Nov. 23 when it became known that Mother Mary de Sales had passed away. Mother Mary de Sales had spent the twenty-nine years of her religious profession in Lurgan convent, and as a token of respect which she was held by the Sisters of the Community of Mercy, she was selected to fill the responsible position of superior for no less than four times. Deceased was a sister of the Rev. Canon McGee, rector of Crossmaglen.

Carlow.

Mrs. Catherine Toole of Tynock died on Nov. 24, aged 73.
Mr. Patrick Tracey, a venerable and respected resident of Tynock, died at his late residence, Craams house, on Dec. 1, aged 80.

Clare.

Mr. James J. Conyn, youngest son of Mr. James Conyn of Killybegny, and brother of Mr. M. Conyn, B. L., was amongst the successful candidates at the recent honor examination in Trinity college for the degree of B. A. Mr. Conyn secured the moderatorship (with silver medal) in legal and political science. He was also awarded the O'Hagan silver medal for oratory at the King's Inn.

Cork.

A marriage was solemnized in the parish church of the Holy Rosary, Midleton, on Nov. 28, between Miss Elizabeth Mary Quenne Copplinger, eldest daughter of Mr. Thomas Stephen Copplinger, J. P., Middleton lodge, and Mr. George H. Deanehy of Lauremont, County Waterford. The venerable Archdeacon Hutch, D. D., P. P., officiated, assisted by the Rev. Father O'Connor, the Rev. Father Murphy, and the Rev. Father O'Mahoney. The groom was accompanied by Mr. Bird, and the bride by Miss Copplinger. The bridegroom's bridesmaids were Misses Hilda, Violet and Miriam Copplinger, sisters of the bride.

Private Denis Moriarty of the Royal Dublin Fusiliers, a native of Glenfisk, Kerry, shot himself at Fermoy on Nov. 28, while temporarily insane.
An interesting event took place on Nov. 26 in Cork, when Patrick Walsh, aged 85 years, and Mrs. McCarthy, aged 75 years, a widower and widow, both residents of Killybegny, were tried.

Donegal.

The Hon. Dec. 1, at her husband's residence, Drimadilly, Termon, Letter-Bridget, the beloved wife of Mr. Neelaughlin, and cousin of Carrer, were settled.

Louth.

Mrs. Mary A. Downey of Drogheda, wife of Alderman Downey, died on Nov. 28, to the sorrow of the entire district.
A meeting of the North Louth executive of the United Irish league was held on Dec. 2 at Dundalk. The Rev. Nicholas Lawless, P. P., Faughart, presided. Resolutions were passed dealing with the question of land purchase, the evicted tenants, the laborers, and the position of Mr. William O'Brien, M. P. The meeting was addressed by Father Lawless, Mr. Dermot O'Brien, United Irish league organizer, and others. One of the speakers was an evicted tenant whom his landlord has agreed to restore after he had been evicted twenty-four years.

Patrick J. Murphy, only son of Mr. Patrick Murphy, proprietor of the Drogheda foundry, lost his life through an accidental fall at Calmes brewery, Drogheda, on Dec. 1. Mr. Murphy was an exemplary citizen, a capable engineer, and a member of the Drogheda Catholic club.

Meath.

Mrs. Mary Bernard Kerin died at the convent of Our Lady of Mercy, Trim, Dec. 3, in the sixty-third year of her age, and the forty-third of her religious profession.

LOVE'S YOUNG DREAM.

O! the days are gone, when beauty bright

My heart's chain wove;

When my dream of life, from morn till night,

Was love, still love.

New hope may bloom,

And days may come

Of milder, calmer beam.

Oh, there's nothing half so sweet in life

As love's young dream;

Oh, there's nothing half so sweet in life

As love's young dream.

Though the bard to purer fame may soar

When wild youth's past;

Though he win the wise, who frowned before,

To smile at last;

He'll never miss

A joy so sweet.

In all his noon of fame.

As when first he sung to woman's ear

His soul-felt flame,

And at every close she blushed to hear

The one loved name.

Oh, that hallowed form is ne'er forgot

Which first love traced;

Still it lingers haunts the greenest spot

On memory's waste.

'Twas odor fled

As soon as shed;

'Twas morning's winged dream;

'Twas a light that ne'er can shine again

On life's dull stream;

Oh! 'twas light that ne'er can shine again

On life's dull stream.

—Thomas Moore.

Look Up, Not Down.

God has filled this world with many beautiful and pleasant things, and we never seem to see them. We fasten our hands on a little bit we call our own, and whine and whine because it isn't more. Grumble because some one has more than we have. Economize and deny ourselves every little pleasure in order to add to our saving. Hate to pay for a paper, hate to give more than a copper to the contribution box, hate to hear the priest say that a collection will be taken up on a certain Sunday—hate to go to church on the day, so stay at home. And how generous the good God has been to us. We are surrounded by all that He has made or has taught man to make. And He has given us a soul that looks out through our eyes, to see and appreciate all these things, but we keep our eyes fastened on the low, sordid things of life and often fail to see that all that we are and have in from Him. Look up, not down, and don't give grudgingly of what has been given to you to use for a time, but sure you cannot take it with you, even if you wished to. There may be those "left to mourn our loss" who are waiting anxiously to claim all that you have loved and must leave. So it is wise to try and do a little good with it while in the land of the living.—New York Catholic News.

How can we judge other men's motives when we know by deepest consciousness how unfathomable are our own, in what unapproachable solitude we fight out our own struggles, endure our own unexpected sorrows, settle as best we can countless bewildering perplexities of which no other human being can by any possibility so much as dream?
